

YONGLI Netherlands

Boost your business

Since 1993, YONGLI Netherlands develops and fabricates custom plastic conveyor and process belts. We offer complete solutions for many applications within the agriculture and horticulture, recycling, packaging and food industries. Our goal is to get your machines and processes running. And to keep them running.

In-house production

No ordinary supplier of conveyor belts, but developer of tailor-made conveyor and process belts. That is what we stand for.

Practically all our belts and accessories are manufactured and fabricated in our own factories enabling us to control the quality of our products during the entire process.

Our technical engineers are ready to make your machinery and production processes work more efficiently, faster and/or easier.

Our many years of industry-specific experience and a pragmatic hands-on mentality are the basis of our policy to find a solution for any problem.

Knowledge and experience

To see opportunities and to create them, is all that matters. We are continuously trying to enhance our technical knowledge. And with this in mind we are pleased to contribute ideas so that we can respond together to the developments in the market.

The strength of our service

Our goal: make your machine the difference! We give high priority to a strong service. Our staff is always ready to recommend the right belt type for the application.

We are taking advantage of a sophisticated logistic system ensuring fast delivery of your orders. And in case of encountering any problem, we will be pleased to solve the inconvenience as soon as possible.

Two branches

YONGLI Netherlands has two branches that together form an excellent combination. Whether it concerns the processing of agriculture and horticulture, recycling, food or the packaging industry, we are your partner for all your conveyor belt solutions.

YONGLI Netherlands is part of the globally operating YONGLI Belting Group, which also consists of its own R&D and production locations in the Netherlands and China and various fellow sister companies in Germany, Poland, Austria, Ireland, America, Brazil and Asia.
